PROJECTS

Adaptive Learning Platform | React, Typescript, Firebase, Hugging Face, Rasch Model IRT | Demo

- Built an AI-driven adaptive assessment platform using Rasch Model (Item Response Theory) to dynamically adjust question difficulty based on real-time learner performance.
- Integrated Hugging Face NLP models for automated question classification and Bloom's Taxonomy tagging, improving concept-level learning assessment accuracy.
- Developed a responsive React + TypeScript frontend with Firebase authentication, real-time database syncing, and analytics dashboards for learning insights.

Titanic Survival Prediction – Kaggle ML Competition | Python, Pandas, Matplotlib, Scikit-learn | GitHub Link

- Built classification models (Logistic Regression, Random Forest) to predict survival outcomes of Titanic passengers.
- Performed data cleaning, handled missing values, and applied feature engineering (e.g., extracting titles from names).
- Used model evaluation techniques to assess accuracy and submitted predictions to Kaggle (Score: 0.75598).

Income Prediction | Python, Pandas, Matplotlib | GitHub Link

- Explored UCI dataset to determine the key factors influencing whether a person earns more or less than ₹50K per year.
- Conducted data preprocessing including handling missing values, encoding, and visualization.
- Created plots to identify patterns and trends among education, occupation, and income levels.
